

Safety Takes You Further

On 12th of April 2022, Mr Tan Yong Jie was engaged in a maintenance operation on a departing aircraft when he noticed a swarm of airborne insects congregating around the engine inlet and fuselage. Despite not discovering any insects in the engines, pitot tube, or static ports during the initial inspection, Yong Jie, exercising prudence, decided to initiate an aircraft change to facilitate a more comprehensive examination and application of disinfection.

Yong Jie's exemplary diligence and swift reporting were commendable. Through his decisive actions, he effectively averted a potential incident that may happen during the flight, ensuring the engines and sensors remained unaffected by the presence of insects.
