Safety Takes You Further

On 7th of December 2022, Mr Min Soe observed a technician conducting an inspection above an aircraft wing at aircraft stand A12 without wearing his personal protective equipment.

Recognising the potential danger of him falling from height, Min Soe promptly approached with caution and strongly advised the technician to cease work immediately.

Thanks to his swift response in this precarious situation, Min Soe averted a possible workplace incident. His intervention served as a reminder to all about the paramount significance of safety and the commendable and exemplary practice of looking out for one another.
